

Sendai-Finland Wellbeing Center Business Innovation International Unit

Sendai Finland Wellbeing Center (FWBC) is a Sendai-based nonprofit organization that promotes businesses between Finland and Japan. Various stakeholders from the City of Sendai and Finland have been collaborating at the FWBC to create high-value-added welfare products and services to promote independent living for the elderly, as well as to develop a wider range of innovative collaborations, including health, wellbeing, lifestyle, ICT, and foods and consumer goods, to promote a better quality of life for all generations.

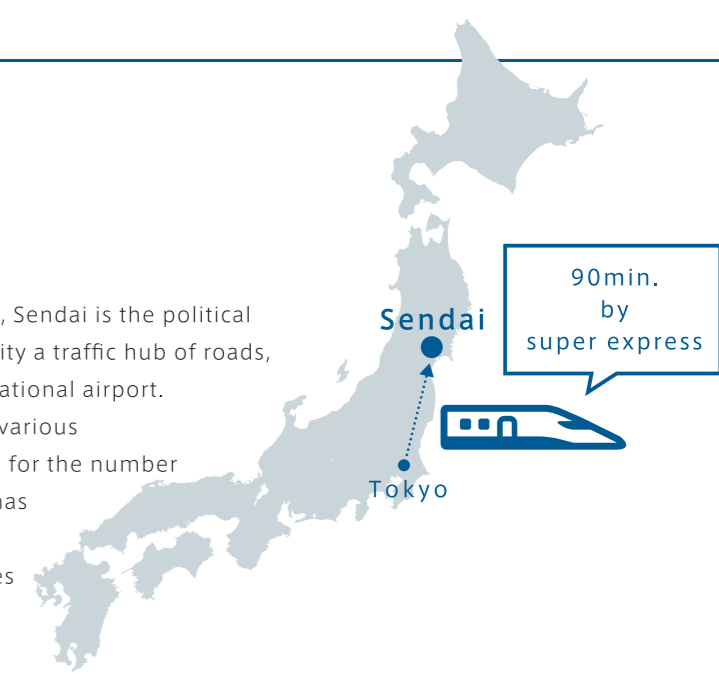

International Collaboration

The FWBC's aim is to bring together the various partners and to encourage their collaboration to achieve optimal and innovative results for each stakeholder. Through our established local network with the academia, research, business, and public fields in the Sendai area, we provide tailor-made support to our international collaboration partners. Our long-term cooperation with Finland and Thailand will make your operations in Sendai much smoother. The FWBC works as a facilitator to create opportunities for success.

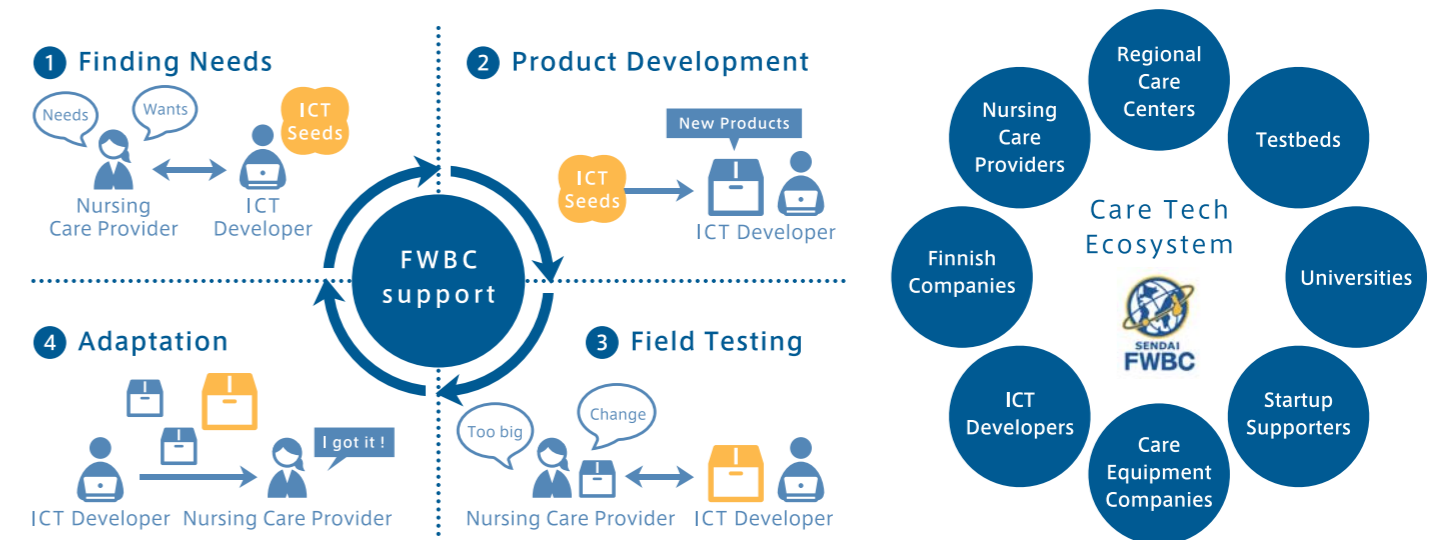

About Sendai-City

COMPACT BUT BIG ENOUGH: With a population of one million, Sendai is the political and economic center of Japan's Tohoku region, making this city a traffic hub of roads, railways, and easily accessible ports. It also features an international airport. Most of the city's functions are closely located, which makes various collaborations easier. Sendai is ranked as one of the top cities for the number of new businesses/startups created per year in Japan. It also has excellent high-tech talent from academia and industry. As a result, this is the perfect place for SMEs to start businesses and meet the right people.

Care Tech

With our established local health/nursing care industry network, the FWBC also aims to create a health and welfare industry cluster that collaborates with a wide range of stakeholders. Through our CareTech ecosystem, we encourage and support manufacturers and service providers to develop products and services that drive efficient nursing care work, facility management, and efforts to make the lives of the elderly easier, happier, and more enjoyable.
